

How to use: form a circle of friendship, each holding a gift. As the story is read your present is passed right or left depending on the flow of the story.

Our chapter loved it.

Christmas Story

Mrs. RIGHT went about her house making sure nothing had been LEFT undone on Christmas Eve. Mrs. RIGHT had invited the Ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star for dinner. Mrs. RIGHT had always enjoyed the love and fellowship of the ladies of her chapter, so she was giving them this dinner to show her appreciation for their dedication.

The large table was set with her finest china, crystal, and silver. Mrs. RIGHT had decorated the large dining room with Christmas decorations, elegant beyond belief. On the corner table just LEFT of the china cupboard was a beautiful Nativity, lit by tiny lights, with a bright star above like the one that appeared in the sky RIGHT at the dear Savior's Birth. Just above was a small banner reminding us that Jesus is the heart of the season. On the table just LEFT of the center piece were five beautiful angels, one wearing a blue ribbon, one ribbon of yellow, one ribbon of white, one ribbon of green, and one ribbon of red. The flames of the candles Mrs. RIGHT had selected were casting a beautiful glow around the room.

The bell rang announcing the arrival of the honored guests. One by one they came in, each bringing a dish to share, except one sister who had LEFT hers in the fridge. Mrs. RIGHT greeted each guest making sure that each felt welcomed, not LEFT out or LEFT alone.

Dinner was to be RIGHT at 6:00 P.M., everyone hurried RIGHT in and took their seats. The Worthy Matron RIGHT at the head of the large table, with Worthy Patron at her LEFT. The Associate Matron was at the other end with the Associate Patron at her LEFT. The dinner was served! They were passing food RIGHT and LEFT. Everyone's plate was filled RIGHT to the edge. The conversation at dinner was RIGHT down funny. Everyone had their favorite Eastern Star story of fun to share.

All agreed that the dinner was RIGHT darn good, and Mrs. RIGHT was RIGHT well pleased. The guest had brought not only food, but love, laughter, and fond memories to share. This is truly the RIGHT spirit for the holidays, good food, good friends, lots of love, and much laughter.

Merry Christmas to all, and pass your present to the RIGHT three more times!
